

The diagram illustrates the relationship between a function and its graph. The left side shows a coordinate system with a horizontal line and several points. The right side shows a green shaded region representing the function's domain.

Expression Status